Miss Mary Campbell of Russellville, Kentucky, is here spending the holidays with her brother, T. G. Campbell, and family.

The Oscar Graham Co. presented a very interesting little comedy drama at the Auditorium Monday night. So well did the company handle all of the parts that the absence of Mr. Graham was not noticed by some until the end of the third act. The company will play a return engagement here some time in the early spring. Graham and his people are always welcomed by Hondo theatre goers.

Rev. Father Pallanche presented the Congregation of the St. John's Catholic Church with an attractive Church Calendar, at the Christmas morning service. The booklet, besides containing considerable interesting reading matter, is replete with information about the local church that will be useful to its communicants throughout the year.
The booklet was assembled and finished by The Anvil Herald's Job Department.

The Anvil Herald completed the delivery of an edition of 650 Mid-winter directories for the Southwestern Tel.
& Tel. Co. this week. Notwithstanding the awful drouth that is paralyzing everything in this country, the efficient management of Mr. J. B. Hurt has maintained the service of the local exchange almost unimpaired. That is an accomplishment of which the management of any business enterprise in this drouth stricken country can well feel proud at the present time.

Alfred Saathoff, son of Mr. and Mrs.
Ehme Saathoff, on his way from here to New Fountain, on the evening of Christmas day, narrowly escaped an accident. His horse got frightened, ran the buggy against a telephone post and broke loose. The boy was thrown out of the buggy. Frank Westphal and visitors of Leakey, who had been guests of Mrs. Fred Folk, met him at the scene and took him to New Fountain to his parents, driving the horse in front of the auto. Alfred Saathoff had escaped injuries.

Soldier boys, who were lucky to get permission to spend the holidays with home-folks, were Willie Windrow, Albie Heyen, Felix Richter, Leo Schweers, Herman Garteiser, Lt. Elb, and Emmett de Montel, Raymond Ney, Monroe Ward, "Booty" Bless, Rolf Frerichs, Fred Lynch, Harry Heyen, Jim Myers, Albert Neuman, Hugo Saathoff, Oscar Mangold, Emil Bohmfalk, Geo. Heyen, and Oscar Taylor, Alex Wendland, Frank Saathoff (who still is on the sick list), Robert Breiten, Oscar Schmitt, and others whose names we failed to get.

"How I Love a Soldier Boy" is the title of a clever musical composition by Mrs. C. B. Watters of San Antonio.
The music is just off the press and is making quite a hit wherever introduced—for who doesn't love a soldier boy! Mrs. Watters has happily interpreted, both in words and music, those feelings that stir within most of us but for which few possess the artistic gift to express so beautifully. Mrs. Watters will be remembered by many of our readers as Fay Scheidemantel, the youngest daughter of the late Charles Scheidemantel, and all his former friends, will rejoice at this success that has come to his gifted daughter.

FOUND—A ladies' valuable handkerchief, on the foot ball grounds Christmas day. Owner can recover same by calling at this office and describing property.

Our attention has been called to the fact that some one, doubtless thoughtless children, have been tampering with the lock-boxes at the post office and some valuable mail has been lost.
Offenders in this particular are warned that this is a serious offense, one liable to get them into the clutches of the Federal law, and they should desist.

Airplanes galore—some dozen and a half or more—visited Hondo Wednesday. The first plane arrived about 8:00 o'clock in the morning, and they continued to arrive and depart throughout the day at brief intervals. From the arrival of the first plane to the departure of the last one an almost continual whirl of propellers and the exhaust of engines could be heard overhead and many a neck was craned as the birdmen circled above the town.
While the visit of airplanes have been rather frequent lately they still excite the interest of our people and their landing place always attracts large crowds during their stay.

The foot ball aggregation of the Hondo High School added new laurels to its already envious record by defeating a team composed principally of young men who were at home from other points in the state for the Christmas holidays. The game was scheduled for 10 o'clock Christmas morning, and despite the decidedly chilly norther that was blowing a good crowd was present to witness the contest. The game proved a good one and was hard-fought from start to finish, but the High School team proved too strong for their opponents and annexed the game by a score of 13 to 6.
The proceeds of the game were donated to the Red Cross.

The editor of this paper acknowledges with grateful appreciation receipt of a copy of The Laurel, the student magazine of the San Marcos Baptist Academy. The copy was of the Christmas issue and was sent with the compliments of the editor-in-chief, Miss Nell Wilson, one of several of Hondo's fair daughters who are making good at the Academy. The magazine is well edited and attractively gotten up typographically. Its table of contents runs all the way from grave to gay, from serious to comic in both prose and poetry. Imagine the young people dismissing from their minds such thoughts as this from the joke column:

Mr. Barton, "Buster, what business have you talking to that girl?"

Buster: "It's not a business—it's a pleasure," long enough to turn in all seriousness to such sound philosophy as this from the editorial column:

"Courage is not the lack of fear.
Courage is facing a thing squarely no matter what the cost."

And plenty of courage they are going to need, not only to surmount the difficulties of exams and other eternals, but to fight the battles of life. But after all, does not courage, like most of the better qualities of human character, thrive best along with cheerfulness?
The young people who created The Laurel evidently have both. We congratulate them all—and especially the editor-in-chief.

Mr. Davis Says Texas Should Raise Her Own Food
And Feed.

Fletcher Davis, Field Agent of the State Department of Agriculture, was here Monday to discuss with our farmers and business men the preparation of the soil for next year's crop and the planting of farm operations so as to increase the production of food and feed crops next year.

Owing to the inclement weather and absence of any advance arrangements for a crowd, no meeting was held. In an interview with the News man Mr. Davis said:

The Department of Agriculture thinks that now at this time the people should meet in Farmers' Institutes and study the problems confronting them. The scarcity of labor and the high price of food, coupled with the urgent need for increased production, calls for a better understanding between the farmers and business men and more cooperation in securing feed and seed for the planting and making of next year's crop. If the state is to be a factor in winning the war and not a handicap it must produce its own food and feed and all of the two hundred million dollars worth this it has been importing from the North and West go to support our European allies."

The Department of Agriculture is anxious to give any assistance it can in solving and meeting this great problem of a self-sustaining food production without at the same time materially curtailing the needed production of the South's staple crop, cotton."

MEMBERSHIP IN THE RED CROSS IS TRUE PATRIOTISM

REAL SERVICE TO NATION AND HER FIGHTERS AWAITS ALL LOYAL CITIZENS.

SACRIFICES BEFORE VICTORY

Cheer and Comfort for Boys "Over There" and Succor for Famili-lies Here is Organization's Aim.

Americanism, 100 per cent true, means membership in the American Red Cross.

This great organization, which stands for humanity the world over and succor to all races and creeds, now is face to face with its greatest task—backing up the army and navy of these United States in a titanic struggle to make the universe safe for democracy.

In its Christmas membership drive for 2,000,000 new members in the Southwest division, comprising the states of Missouri, Texas, Kansas, Oklahoma and Arkansas, the American Red Cross appeals not for charity, but for patriotism of an undivided kind.

Aid for America's Sons.

Up to the present time the Red Cross has gone to the front for all peoples combating a ruthless autocracy unprecedented in the annals of mankind. Today it is engaged in recreating its wonderful resources to aid the millions of men America is assembling for the decisive battle in the trenches, in the air and on the seas.

"Charity begins at home" is a time-worn, tried axiom. But, brought up to date, it finds a real meaning in the support for this country's fighters and those they leave behind.

The millions who find protection under the Stars and Stripes are now offered an opportunity to do real services to the nation and the boys who will fight for them against the evil which menaces the very foundation of this free government.

Service is Awaiting All.

The War Council of the American Red Cross has decided that a great national purpose will be served by having membership in the Red Cross almost as universal as citizenship.

Although pledged as a nation to the national purpose during this crisis, it will not be granted to a large percentage of American men, women and children to play a part in the fighting branch of our country's service. All, however, can be identified, through membership in the Red Cross, which in this case, when entire nations are organized for warfare, is big enough and strong enough to carry some of the burden for our soldiers, for our sailors and our allies.

America's struggle is one of Men, Money, Material and Mercy. Men supply the military force. Money represents the means by which the army and navy are supplied. Material consists of guns, ammunition, uniforms and supplies. Mercy—the Red Cross.

Morale Vital Factor.

Comfort kits, sweaters, wristlets and bandages go far in promoting the welfare of Uncle Sam's fighters, but the greatest stimulant to the army's morale is concrete evidence of American citizenship's unity by an addition of 2,000,000 members to the American Red Cross in the Southwest by Christmas Eve.

No sacrifice an American can make here at home can compensate the father, son or brother menaced by all the perils of warfare in the trenches abroad.

Lack of proper morale has, without doubt, been largely responsible for the collapse of Russia and the crumbling of Italy's forces. No man can throw himself wholeheartedly into the business of war when devoured by the most acute anxiety as to the welfare of his loved ones at home.

More than 5,000,000 men and women already have enlisted in the ranks of the American Red Cross to minister relief to the maimed and suffering and to carry cheer and comfort to America's army and navy. In camp and cantonment, amid the roar of battle, the standard of the Red Cross challenges all forces of destruction.

Patriotism is calling to Americans to range themselves with their dollars, service and encouragement behind the men in khaki who are going forth to die, if need be, in their defense.

MAKE THIS A RED CROSS CHRISTMAS

It is our first Christmas in the war. Millions of our men are away from their homes, in the trenches and on the sea.

It is our hope that on Christmas eve all members will light Christmas candles and place them in their windows behind their Red Cross service flags.

Through this simple ceremony we shall express the close union of the Christmas spirit of service with our Red Cross symbol of mercy.

HINTS FOR BELATED GIFTS

Bags and Aprons Are Easily and Quickly Made and They Are Always Acceptable.

For many weeks before Christmas the household is busy with needle, crochet hook and tatting shuttle, fashioning Christmas gifts for family and friends. But, there always are some belated gifts, that must be made during the last few days, for friends that we would like to remember.

In such cases there is nothing more quickly or easily made than bags and aprons, and one never can have too many of either. Laundry bags, stocking bags, darning bags, piece bags and bags for soiled handkerchiefs can be made of chintz or cretonne, and fancy work bags, purse bags, and handkerchief bags may be made of silk and ribbon. Several of these bags can easily be made in an evening, and they are always acceptable gifts.

And aprons—no woman ever had too many aprons. A few yards of gingham, percale and butcher's linen made up into aprons, which would not require more than a day to make a good supply, would go a long ways as gifts to busy house mothers. And caps, also.

At this time almost every woman wears some sort of cap when doing her house work, and a neat, washable cap makes an acceptable gift, and requires little skill in the making. And so with these practical and quickly made gifts one may be able to catch up with Christmas remembrances, even though belated until the last few days before Christmas.

And aprons—no woman ever had
too many aprons. A few yards of gingham, percale and butcher's linen made
up into aprons, which would not require more than a day to make a good supply, would go a long ways as gifts
to busy house mothers. And caps, also.

DIDN'T KNOW WHAT TO DO WITH HIS MONEY

A farmer came to one of the biggest business men in the Southwest last week and said: "I have done pretty well this season. I've $500.00 that I can spare. It's earning me nothing in the bank. You know something about investments, tell me what to do with it."

"Well," said the big fellow, "You can put your money into Railroad Stocks, you can buy Standard Commercial Stocks, or you can take long chances and buy stock in some Gold Mine which may or may not make you a Millionaire. Do you know anything about stocks, shares, or investments generally?"

"Not a thing."

"Well, what is your first requirement in an investment, do you want high interest, or absolute safety?"

"Absolute safety—no chances for me. Why I wouldn't sleep nights and my wife would never quit worrying if I took chances."

"Well," was the reply, "I can advise you to buy some good Commercial Stock but I want to warn you that owing to trade conditions being upset of course the Stock might be low just when you wanted to sell. Would you mind that?"

"Yes, I believe I would. Of course, I know all Stocks go up and down a little in price, but I must have something that can't go down too low, because I might want my money any time, and I can't afford to lose 5% to 10% of my investment just for the sake of securing 5% to 10% interest."

"So you want something that is so safe it will not cause you one moment's worry, you want something that you can purchase, hold, and feel safe about without having to learn anything about stocks, shares, or market prices."

"That's it, exactly."

The business man had known right along what investment this man needed, but he wanted the farmer to sell himself first. "Well," he said with a smile, "What's the matter with investing with the United States Government? You won't have to sit up nights wondering whether they are going to fail. You don't have to know one thing about stocks, shares or markets, in order to get in on the proposition, and your little 4% comes around twice a year regularly."

"Oh, you mean buy a Liberty Bond?"

"Yes, why not?"

"Well, I guess I can't do better."

"Better, why, man, you can't do as well. It's the only kind of investment for a fellow like yourself who knows all about farming and nothing about finance. Your bond is the best collateral in the world, you can always sell it if you have to, and believe me there is a feeling of satisfaction about owning one of those bonds that you can't buy with any other security. The bond is Uncle Sam's certificate that you are an American in good standing and you feel that you are helping our boys in the great fight. Look at it any way you like, it's the finest investment in the world."

$500.00 Reward

I will pay the above reward for the arrest and conviction of the party or parties who are stealing my steers.

Warning against Damage to Cattle.

Houston, Tex., Dec. 21, 1917.
To All Agents:

Information has reached us to the effect that a certain organization which is in opposition to the purposes of this country and the best interest of its people in the prosecution of the war against the enemy nations has planned this winter to use concentrated lye and roach powder for killing or injuring cattle and hogs in yards and feed pens.

It is said that lye on rock salt causes mouth sores, ulcers in the stomach and also rots the feet of stock, producing a condition similar to that of "foot and mouth disease."

It is suggested also that the organization in question proposes to use muriatic and nitric acid in food fed to hogs, causing ulceration of the stomach and death under conditions closely resembling hog cholera.

Agents and others receiving this circular will please notify all cattle men, shippers, feeders, breeders and farmers in order that they may take necessary precautions to guard their stock against these possible attempts, and to exercise proper diligence in preventing unauthorized persons from having access to stock at any time.

Station agents and others will redouble their precautions to avoid possible damage while stock of any kind is in their possession, cautioning trainmen in connection with the subject matter.

The management will cordially appreciate the co-operation of all its employees in this and all other matters in which the interests of the Government and the people are at issue.

Couldn't Get Out

Of Bed By Herself.

Mrs. Williamson Was So Crippled Up With Rheumatism She Could Hardly Move.

"Tanlac helped me right up out of bed after everything else failed and if I hadn't taken it when I did I believe I would be lying there yet", said Mrs. G. Williams, of 716 South Maybell Street, Tulsa, Okla.

"I was in a terrible rundown condition for the last six months", she explained, "and my sufferings from indigestion and rheumatism were something awful. I had to be particular about what I ate for nearly everything disagreed with me and gas would form from sour undigested food and bloated me so I was miserable for hours. I got thin and weak and fell off to less than a hundred pounds and rheumatism gave me so much pain I couldn't get out of bed without help and then I could hardly stand on my feet. My arms and lower limbs hurt all the time and many a night I couldn't get an hour's sleep.

My nerves were all unstrung and I was so worn out I had to take to my bed and at times I was so weak I couldn't move without somebody helping me. "One of my neighbors told me about Tanlac and I decided to try it. I have now taken seven bottles and it sure chased away that rheumatism in a hurry. I have been feeling splendid for several weeks now and haven't had a pain to speak of. My appetite is good and I can eat most anything I want without it hurting me. My nerves are in good shape. I sleep like a child and get up in the morning feeling fine. I am picking up now every day and I know from what it has done for me that Tanlac is the best medicine on earth."

Tanlac is sold in Hondo by W. H. Windrow, in Devine by Lion Drug Store, in D'Hanis by Louis Carle, in LaCoste by Dickey Drug Co., and in Dunlay by Louis A. Haby.

YOU AND I AND

NOW AND THEN

By Orin R. Cole, St. Louis, Mo.

One of these days there will come from "over there" a casualty list of American soldiers that will eat into your soul and my soul. Many of the boys who went "over there" to protect your honor and my honor and your freedom and my freedom will be on the list of dead. They will have given up their lives, even as the Man of Gall-lee, for you and for me.

NOW, and not THEN, you and I should ask ourselves, "Are we doing EVERYTHING we can to help the Army which is back of the Army?"

The Army Back of the Army is the great American Red Cross. The Red Cross is one of the biggest agencies for winning the war for the Allies. We are going to win the war, of course.

But when? NOW is the time to consider that question, too. NOW is the time for you and for me to do EVERY-THING WE CAN for the government of the United States and for the rest of the Allies. And we ought to go to the depths of our hearts for the answer to the question: "Are we doing

ALL we can?"

The American Red Cross is the very backbone of the American expeditary forces. It cares for the soldier's family while he is away, if the family needs care; it cares for the soldier himself, both on the way to the battlefields and after he arrives there; the great American Red Cross MAKES the MORALE of not only the American forces overseas but the forces of the other Allies as well. We are going to win the war, yes, but we are not going to win it without the support of the American Red Cross.

And so, as I said before, one of these days we are going to get our first big casualty list from "over there," and your boy or your neighbor's boy will be one of the dead. THEN, with tears in our eyes and lumps in our throats, realizing at last that the boys "over there" have made the Supreme Sacrifice, realizing that they gave us LIFE by embracing DEATH, then—THEN—

But THEN will be TOO LATE. What about NOW? This is OUR hour to act; this is our hour to rally around the Red Cross; this is our hour to join that greatest of all great humanitarian organizations; this is our hour to help make a success of the Christmas membership campaign which has for its purpose the enlistment of 10,000,000 new members by Christmas eve; this is our hour to take to our hearts the Farm Loan Bonds Seiling By Millions In America.

Washington, Nov. 22.—A report issued by the federal farm loan board indicates that up to Nov. 1st farm loan bonds to the amount of $21,500,000 had been disposed of to investors of the United States. Of this amount $18,850,000 of bonds were distributed through bond houses and $2,650,000 were sold directly by the twelve federal banks to investors.

These bonds bear 4½ per cent interest and are entirely tax free. They are sold at 101½ and are secured by the first mortgages taken in exchange for loans made to the farmers by the twelve federal land banks and they are further secured by all of the assets of all the twelve federal land banks. These bonds are being offered to the public at the rate of approximately $3,000,000 per week. The money derived from their sale is loaned to farmers at 5 per cent, the margin of 1 per cent being employed to pay the expenses of the federal land banks.

Chamberlain's Tablets.

Chamberlain's Tablets are intended especially for stomach troubles, biliousness and constipation, and have met with much success in the treatment of those diseases. People who have suffered for years with stomach trouble and have been unable to obtain any permanent relief, have been completely cured by the use of these tablets. Chamberlain's Tablets are also of great value for biliousness. Chronic constipation may be permanently cured by taking Chamberlain's Tablets and observing the plain printed directions with each bottle.

Messrs. H. F. Wurzbach of Cliff, Jno. G. Schuehle of Riomedina and Ed. Huehner, the jovial representative of the Hondo Anvil Herald at Castroville, were here on business and pleasure the first of the week.

WOMAN WORKER IN ALASKA RAISES FUNDS FOR RELIEF

The American Red Cross has received a remittance and the following letter from a woman in a town in Alaska:

"I am sending you a money order for the amount of $36.50, to be used for the Red Cross. I collected it from the men two Tin Dredges here in the summer. I am the only white woman here and my nearest Naboer (white woman) are 50 miles from here. I have been here 10 years, without being outside, but tried to do my best to 'do my bit' for our boys in this awful War." I had only two refusals, so consider myself lucky, and a little bit proud. Please let me know when you receive it."

For Eczema, Tetter and Salt Rheum.

The intense itching characteristic of these ailments is almost instantly allayed by Chamberlain's Salve. Many severe cases have been cured by it. For sale by all dealers.

RED CROSS WORK SAVES SOLDIERS FOR NEXT SPRING

MEN AT FRONT ARE HEARTENED BECAUSE THEIR FAMILIES ARE CARE FOR.

GEN. PERSHING CO-OPERATES

American Leader and Gen. Petain Aid in Relieving Distress, Thereby Keeping up the Morale of the Army.

That the work which the Red Cross is doing in France to alleviate suffering among the families of Frenchmen who are fighting at the front represents a saving of 1,500,000 men is the opinion of William Allen White, noted writer and owner of the Emporia (Kan.) Gazette, who has just returned from France.

"It is not probable that our army in France will get into the fighting to any large extent until next spring. The real war work that should interest the people of America this winter is of an economic rather than of a military character. It will be carried on by the Red Cross in France, its purpose being to relieve needy conditions in the homes of French soldiers who are in winter quarters in the trenches at the front.

Comfort Women and Children.

"It is felt by the military officers of both nations that nothing could do more to keep up the morale of the French soldiers during the coming winter than to bring comfort to women and children at home. The soldier's knowledge that his family is being well cared for will take a great load off his mind and hearten him to stand up against privation which otherwise might break his spirit and render him of no physical use.

"Maj. Grayson M. P. Murphy of the Red Cross, Gen. Pershing and Gen. Petain of France are working in union to perfect the plans for the relief of families of soldiers, the military commanders believing that it will be of the greatest benefit to both armies. It should be kept in mind that every soldier who is saved this winter means the saving of an American boy when the big drive begins next spring. Some American boy will have to take the place of every Frenchman who is killed or who breaks down under the strain.

"This particular relief work means, therefore, that French soldiers will be saved for work in the spring and American lives will be conserved at the same time.

Petain is Doing a Great Service.

"Gen. Petain is having French officers go right down the lines and ascertain from every soldier whether he has any worries on his mind concerning sickness or want at home. Report will be made to headquarters weekly and not a single case will be overlooked in the immense undertaking. Special attention will be given to the treatment and prevention of tuberculosis, and child welfare work also will be an accompaniment of the general relief. Scattered through France, many of them in soldiers' homes, are some 200,000 refugees from the war zone, and these also will receive attention.

"In short, it is the purpose to keep the spirit of France bright until the military forces are ready to deal their smashing blow against German autocracy. Thus it is I say that the great struggle of the winter will be the economic struggle. The Red Cross practically will fight the American fight until our boys take their places on the firing line next spring."

Stomach Trouble and Constipation.

Those who are afflicted with stomach trouble and constipation should read the following: "I have never found anything so good for stomach trouble and constipation as Chamberlain's Tablets. I have used them off and on for the past two years. They not only regulate the action of the bowels but stimulate the liver and keep one's body in a healthy condition," writes Mrs. Benjamin Hooper, Auburn, N. Y.

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Huegele, and family, of Yellow Banks, visited Mr. and Mrs. Willie Brieden.

State of Ohio, City of Toledo, 1. ss.

Catarrhal Cough

Mr. W. S. Brown, R. F. D. No. 4, Box 82, Rogersville, Tennessee, writes:

"I feel it my duty to recommend Peruna to all sufferers of catarrh or cough. In the year 1909, I took a severe case of the la grippe. I then took a bad cough. I had taken all kinds of cough remedies but got no relief. I then decided to try Peruna. I used five bottles. After taking five bottles my cough stopped and my catarrh was cured. My average weight was 115 and now I weigh 148. Any one suffering with catarrh in any form I will advise them to take Peruna."

THE bosom of Sergeant Lyndham was filled to the brim with disgust and loathing. Nor was this disgust and loathing entirely without reason. Months of wallowing like a pig in the mud of trenches does not sweeten the soul, and when it is combined with endless duties in the cold fall rains of a shell-swept region that is akin to the borders of inferno, the nerves become ragged. Hence had come about the curdling of the milk of human kindness which had previously existed within him.

Nor had a few little midnight surprise parties over the top in which the bayonet had been the principal piece of resistance tended to decrease these sensations. Even being bowed 20 feet by the concussion of a shell had not cheered him. But it had remained for a whiff of poison gas and a squirt of liquid fire to set and solidify his mind to its present condition. Alive, dead, or as yet unborn, Sergeant Lyndham was of the fixed opinion that he did not like the Boches.

And the last 24 hours had been particularly obnoxious from the fact that they had been entirely sleepless. The horizon was still lurid with cannon flashes and the uproar remained steady despite the fact that it was hours after midnight, but he was accustomed to such things, and knew that once asleep, they would not trouble him. Also, for all he knew, he might dream of something pleasant. He was free now for a few hours within his blankets, and was in the act of removing his boots when his captain thrust his head within and motioned for him to come forth. Knowing that something both new and disagreeable confronted him, he arose and stepped out as commanded.

For a quarter of a mile they silently wound their way along a muddy road until the dim lights of a partially shell-ruined house appeared before them. Into this they entered, and the sergeant, casting his eyes about, saw the colonel of his regiment sitting at a table. Saluting he stood at attention.

"Sergeant Lyndham," said the colonel thoughtfully. "A few months ago when you accompanied one of our airmen over the line and destroyed a plant of the enemy, you did a very brave and skillful thing. For that act you were made a sergeant. Tonight we must have another duty performed, and I have selected you because of my confidence in your courage and ability. It is very likely that you will not return, yet war demands its sacrifices. Without knowing more of this new duty do you volunteer to try and accomplish it?" It was plain enough now that there would be no rest or sleep for him again this night, and the sergeant's disgust and loathing mounted accordingly. Yet he managed to swallow them.

"Yes, sir," he grunted. The colonel nodded.

"You are a brave and willing soldier, sergeant. Were it not for the fact that the regiment contains so many men like you I would sometimes become filled with fear and sadness. Now for the reason I sent for you. You will remember the trenches which run through Thier's woods, do you not?"

"Slightly, colonel. I helped capture them from the Boches at the point of the bayonet."

"And in turn were driven from them by the same amiable gentlemen." Lyndham made a wry face.

"Yes, colonel. But they surprised us most unfairly. It was all very disgusting and made me loathe them."

"I have no doubt. But now listen. We have reason to believe that they have evacuated the position, while it has become important that we regain it. You will follow my reasoning. If the enemy has deserted the ditch we wish to know it, while if he has not, it is equally important that we should know, since we must be advised beforehand what we may expect when we make our advance—whether resistance or unopposed occupancy. Therefore, we are compelled to send someone as a scout to ascertain the conditions."

"And because of the darkness and treestops the airmen are useless?"

"Exactly. Therefore, you will crawl upon your stomach to the wood, going alone the better to escape observation. By working your way flat upon the ground and instantly becoming still should their lights fall upon you, you may be mistaken by them for what you are likely to become—one of the dead men of which you will pass many, if you are lucky. Should you return with this information, well and good; if not, we will be compelled to adopt other means to secure our information. You had best plan to arrive there by the first light of day that you may be able to observe conditions. If you find the trenches empty, you will have to run for it coming back. We will be watching and if we see you returning, even though you may not succeed in reaching our lines, we will understand."

You found no one over there. Otherwise, of course, they would not let you come back. You see it is all very simple, sergeant."

"As simple as suicide, colonel."

"I can do no more than wish you good luck. However, you will start at once." With another salute Lyndham turned upon his heel and walked away.

Well upon his way, he lay in the darkness on the field between the opposing battle lines. Over his head shells were hurtling, shrieking off into the distance with the wail of banshees. The glare of search bombs threw their ghastly light upon a field still more ghastly. Occasional flights of machine gun bullets swept over him like gusts of cyclone driven hail. He came to a shell crater the size of a cellar, and crept into it. It was half full of mire and the sudden blaze of a rocket revealed horribly torn and bleeding things half submerged in the drainage water of the hole. Filled with uttermost repugnance he abided his time, and in a moment of pitch darkness clambered over the edge and resumed his snake-like crawl through the muck.

He reached the wood, found the maze of entanglements, and making a breach with his wire-cutter, crawled to the edge of the excavation, peered and listened. No sound came from the blackness below, and he slid over the top. Silently he sat until the first faint light of morning came peeping down through the foliage, then cautiously he began his advance. Around the turns he zigzagged his way in the gathering light, revolver in hand, seeing nothing but the gruesome evidence of the strife that had raged about him. Then he made another sharp turn; he stopped suddenly. Before him, sitting with his back against the wall, was a German, who held a revolver leveled at his breast. Swiftly Lyndham's glance swept the other.

Above the unshaven beard of the one who confronted him the cheeks were the sickly color of death, yellow with the unwholesome color of a mushroom. Mud coated him as an envelope from head to toe, and down his breast a small red trickle was creeping. Slowly the bearded lips parted as words bitter with hate fell from them.

"Ach! You have come again, have you, abominable Englishers! But you return to an empty victory, since we have withdrawn our force to a more desirable place. You may have this abandoned sty in welcome, but first you I shall kill."

Lyndham thought rapidly. Though he had a revolver in his hand, his hand hung at this side, while the muzzle of the other man's weapon was full upon his breast. Into the eyes of his foe he saw leap the deadly glare of hatred as the grimy hands tightened about the butt as the finger prepared to press the trigger. Sergeant Lyndham had more than half expected to be killed before the war was over, but he never pictured his end as coming like this—at the hand of one who was already little better than a dead man. Yet what was to be would be, and in what he believed to be his last moment upon earth a thought flashed across his mind. For the first time throughout the black night he had just passed he remembered what day this was, and the other man's weapon was full upon his breast. Rev. John Joseph Myers, the late Rector of the Parish of St. John the Evangelist, Hondo, Texas, was born at Cashel Co., Tipperary, Ireland, May 14, 1878. He completed his classical studies in his native country at Mt. Mallory College. On account of ill health, he came to the United States, and in the fall of 1897, took up the study of Philosophy and Theology. On Dec. 21, 1902, he was raised to the Priesthood at Kenrick Seminary, St. Louis, Mo., by Archbishop J. Kain, and on the following Christmas Day, celebrated his First Holy Mass. Being affiliated to the Diocese of St. Joseph, Mo., he was appointed Assistant in that City, but his health failing again, obliged him to seek relief at Niagara Falls, Denver and St. Luis Potosi, Mex., where he later took charge of the American Catholic Colony. Father Myers came to Texas in 1909, and became Assistant at D'Hannan with the special charge of the Hondo Mission. After the erection of the new Church, he was appointed resident Pastor of Hondo, in May, 1912.

During his pastorate, he endeared himself to the entire community, and the parish made considerable progress. He celebrated the Holy Sacrifice of the Mass for the last time on Christmas, 1916, the 15th Anniv. of his first Mass. He passed away on Dec. 20, 1916, strengthened by the Sacrament of the Church. The burial took place on Dec. 31, 1916, in the midst of a great concourse of people. Right Rev. Bishop Shaw, and a large number of the clergy came to pay their last respect to the deceased Pastor. THE CATHOLIC HOME.

Home is one of the sacred places on earth for therein dwells a trinity of persons upon whom depends the future welfare of mankind: the father, mother and children.

For the sake of the children who are our future men and women, it should be an abode of inspirations and training in Christian virtues assuring a virtuous citizenship.

In the Catholic home there is a perfect unity of faith and aspirations as well as a unity of interest in this world's goods. For the little ones, there are means of instruction in the knowledge of God and their duties to Him: Crucifix pictures and the lessons of a good mother. There are good books, among which the Holy Bible has a place of honor. Prayers and especially night prayers are recited in common.

The Holy Family composed of Jesus, Joseph and Mary at Nazareth, where the Savior of the world was "subject to them" is the model of the Catholic Home.

Any one who may desire to be instructed in the Catholic Faith or who may wish to ask any question about the teaching or practices of the Catholic Church, is cordially invited to call on the Pastor at the Rectory at any time.

Respectfully,

Platinum in Spain.

THE STATE OF TEXAS.
To the Sheriff or any Constable of Medina County, Greeting:

A preliminary investigation of the platinum deposits in the mountainous region of Southern Spain known as the Serrania de Ronda, begun in 1915, has recently been completed and the results have been published by the Geological Institute in Madrid. It is stated that the area of the platiniferous zone is undoubtedly very large, there being 12 or 14 wide rivers with extensive beds of platiniferous material. These could be dredged for platinum gravel for many years, if it is proved that the average platinum content of the gravel is sufficient to warrant the working. Some very rich zones were found. The Spanish government has now undertaken an exhaustive investigation of the region.—Scientific American.

Explosive Workers.

The explosive worker is a strenuous worker whose intense preoccupation is with accomplishing perfectly that predetermined end in which his interest is centered. He works with intelligent personal intention driven by the explosive energy of his purpose. If he is driving rivets, he is driving them so that they will accomplish the object intended. Working explosively is human purpose expressing itself through inanimate material; it is not the function of an unburdened efficient human machine striking so many well-directed blows in a definite time.—William H. Smyth, in Industrial Magazine.

Valuable Papers Imperiled.

The scarcity of paper in England and the consequent demand for waste paper has created the danger that valuable documents may at times be inadvertently destroyed. An example of this occurred in connection with the Carmarthenshire Antiquarian society. A document rescued on its way to the pulping press proved to be an indenture of 1649, bearing the autograph signatures of no less than five mayors of Carmarthen.
